

Contraction Construction

As your teacher announces the contraction, find which two words you can construct the contraction from. Print the contraction on the line under the two words. Try to get five squares in a row going up and down, across or diagonally.

I am _____	I have _____	did not _____	she is _____	we are _____ will not _____	it is _____	let us _____	that is _____	you are _____
I will _____	was not _____	Free Space	could not _____	I would _____ does not _____	they are _____	can not _____	he is _____	do not _____ are not _____	have not _____	we will _____	you have _____	you will _____

Contraction Construction

As your teacher announces the contraction, find which two words you can construct the contraction from. Print the contraction on the line under the two words. Try to get five squares in a row going up and down, across or diagonally.

		Free Space

Name: _____ Grade: _____ Date: _____

It's Your Turn!

Write your own poem about taking tests. First, brainstorm words that relate to "tests" and how you feel about them. Write these on the lines below.

Then write a rhyming poem in AABB or ABCB:

A _____

A _____

B _____

B _____

Or

A _____

B _____

C _____

B _____