

Paris McCray's Extreme Readers Book Club

Paris McCray, along with her friends Sahara and Luz, has organized a classroom book club. She is the president. The goal of this club is to get as many of her classmates as possible to enjoy reading as much as she does.

The rules of the Extreme Readers Book Club are:

- Any student in the class can be a member.
- The student's membership card gets a hole punch for each book read.
- When six books are read, the student gets a prize.
- The club meetings will be held in the classroom during recess.

To help make the Extreme Readers Book Club successful, the club officers created a newsletter. The newsletter included:

- the Club's logo
- club news
- a featured author and book titles
- book reviews
- illustrations
- a bookmark on the side of the paper that could be cut out

Members of the Extreme Readers Book Club were all issued a membership card that looked like this:

Extreme Readers Book Club Membership Card

 Name: _____

 Address: _____

 Age: _____ Birth date: _____

 Home Phone Number: _____

 Cell phone number: _____

 Allergies (if any): _____

Create a Book Club

In the book Viva La Paris by Esmé Raji Codell, it takes Paris McCray a lot of planning to organize a classroom book club. Working with her friends, her teacher, and the school librarian, she is able to create the successful Extreme Readers Book Club. See if you can do as good a job by planning a book club of your own. Be prepared to share your work with the class.

Book Club's Name: _____

Club Rules:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Suggested Author and/or Book Titles: _____

Content of Newsletter (or other type of communication):

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Membership Card:

Other ideas:

