

Children's Literature Award Winners Match Game

Draw lines to match each book title in the middle column to its award-winning author or illustrator(s) in the other columns.

Hint: There may be more than one award-winning book by a named author or illustrator; both author and illustrator of a book may have won honors or medals for the book, or the same person may have written and illustrated a book. Try to find all the combinations!

Author	Title	Illustrator
Kate DiCamillo	Bridge to Terabithia	David Wiesner
Nancy Willard	A Visit to William Blake's Inn	Laura McGee Kvasnosky
Linda Sue Park	Flopsam	Tomie dePaola
Christopher Paul Curtis	Strega Nona	Alice & Martin Provensen
Laura McGee Kvasnosky	The Great Gilly Hopkins
Tomie dePaola	A Single Shard
Katherine Paterson	Zelda and Ivy: The Ramazons
	The Watsons Go to Birmingham—1963
	The Tale of Despereaux
	The Three Pigs

Multiple Award-winning Children's Books

Use classroom and media center resources to find out which awards (Newbery Medal, Boston Globe-Horn Book, or National Book Award) each of the following children's books won. Then place each title in the appropriate section of the Venn diagram below. Note: Count only the awards each title actually won—not finalists or honor books. Books may be winners in any young people's category of the award.
